Urge Congress to Support the Improving Reporting to Prevent Hate Act

A core part of NCJW's mission is working to build a society where everyone can live free from violence and persecution. With antisemitism and other forms of bias and discrimination at exponential levels, hate-driven violence continues to threaten all of our communities. Yet the FBI's 2022 Hate Crime Statistics report, the most recent report available, does not include information from thousands of locations because their law enforcement agencies failed to report hate crime data to the FBI.

Accurate, consistent reporting allows the government and local nonprofits to know where, when, and how to mobilize community resources to prevent and respond to hate crimes. The Improving Reporting to Prevent Hate Act is exactly what our communities need to better understand and address hate crimes. This bill will improve reporting by requiring local governments of cities with populations over 100,000 people to report hate crimes to the FBI every year.

June Lunch and Learn - Current Issues in Early Childhood Education with Karen Lucy

Thursday, June 20, 2024
12:00 PM - 1:00 PM CT

Karen Lucy

When: Thursday, June 20 | 12:00 - 1:00 PM

Where: Zoom

RSVP Here

Early childhood education is critical in shaping children's cognitive, social, and emotional development. However, it faces various challenges, including inadequate funding, teacher shortages, and training limitations. These challenges can significantly affect children's overall well-being and future success. Those on the front lines - early childhood teachers and faculty - can make the biggest difference in ensuring access to quality education for all children, regardless of their socioeconomic background.

For our June Lunch and Learn, we are absolutely thrilled to welcome Karen Lucy, Executive Director of Cornerstone Center for Early Learning. Many of you may know Karen from her days at Temple Israel and Shaare Emeth. Karen's 20+ years in education range from classroom educator, center director to executive director. She has mentored children and adults alike throughout the years as a way to support and guide individuals to personal and professional success. As a strong advocate for early childhood education, Karen was a speaker at the 2017 New Zealand World Forum on Early Care and Education. In addition, in February of 2018, Karen travelled throughout Israel observing and learning about the early education methods. Later she developed a one-day professional learning opportunity for educators; Natural Explorations. Karen holds a membership with the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

Karen believes children are the ambassadors of our planet and we can't wait to hear from her!

ADD YOUR NAME and Help Us Oppose Censorship of Our Public Libraries

For those who have already joined, thank you!

To protect libraries throughout Missouri, including those at public schools, NCJWSTL has helped convene a statewide coalition of individuals and organizations called Right to Read. The coalition will oppose any legislative, state policy or other effort to restrict access to materials at public libraries; the coalition has the utmost confidence in trained, experienced librarians and educators to evaluate and select materials in the libraries' collection.

Did you know?

- As a result of a Missouri law enacted in August 2022 restricting some types of materials in public schools, librarians fearful of criminal prosecution have removed nearly 300 titles from school library shelves.
- Under an administrative rule imposed by Secretary of State Jay Ashcroft, all public libraries must have submitted by July 31 how they will comply with the vaguely written rule. Failure to comply could result in loss of state funding, which comprises a significant portion of small libraries' budgets.
- Missouri is among the nation's top book banning states, especially regarding restricting access to books about gender, sexuality and race in public schools.

More attempts will likely be made in the 2024 Missouri legislative session to suppress First Amendment rights. Free and open access to materials at our public libraries is an essential aspect of our democracy.

Get FREE Emergency Contraception at NCJWSTL!

NCJWSTL is thrilled to announce that we have partnered with the Missouri Family Health Council (MFHC) to distribute FREE emergency contraception kits! This effort is vitally important in the wake of last year's Supreme Court decision overturning Roe vs. Wade, especially in states like Missouri where abortion is illegal. Everyone should have the right to determine when and if they wish to start a family, and emergency contraception is vital in preventing unwanted pregnancies.

Also known as the morning-after pill, or by the brand name Plan B, the emergency contraception pill is an over-the-counter form of birth control that can be taken up to five days after unprotected sex to avoid pregnancy. The goal of this effort is to reduce geographic and financial barriers Missourians face in accessing emergency contraception pills.

While supplies last, MFHC, NCJWSTL and other partner organizations are offering free EC kits to anyone of any age. Feel free to stop by the NCJWSTL office to pick up your kit - for you or a loved one.

If you have any questions, please contact Jen Bernstein at jbernstein@ncjwstl.org. You can also order an emergency contraception kit by mail by clicking here.

Interesting Reading

States like Missouri should be doing all they can to recruit top talent in all fields, medicine included. But it's no surprise that all 14 states with abortion bans saw a decrease in OB-GYN residency applications, despite a slight overall increase in physicians applying for OB-GYN residency programs nationally, the study found. Missouri was second only to Arizona for the largest decrease in applicants.
